THE CHURCHILLS CALL ON DUTCH ROYAL FAMILY—In this picture, the former prime minister hardly resembles the tough tenacious statesman who led his country to victory. It appears more like a benevolent, elderly friend of the family. He is holding the infant Princess Marjke, youngest daughter of Princess Juliana and Prince Bernhard of Holland, while Mrs. Churchill wiggles her fingers in the familiar V-sign. This photo was made during a recent visit of the prime minister and his wife to the royal family at Soestdijk palace, at Amsterdam, Holland. In the picture left to right are Mrs. Churchill, Prince Bernhard, Mr. Churchill holding Princess Marjke, Princess Juliana with Princess Margriet in front of her, Princess Irene and Princess Beatrix.

CAT A "CENTENARIAN"—Tookies, short-haired cat owned by Mrs. Earl Coleman of Toronto, is quite grey at an age equal to that of 120 years for a human. The cat, seen with a young admirer, Warren Whaley, four, will be 20 this summer.

U.S. NAVY SUBMARINE VISITS CANADA—On a three-day informal visit to Canada, the U.S. navy submarine Tiger is shown as she moved up the Halifax, N.S., harbor to her berth. One of the latest built by the U.S. during the war, the 1,600-ton submarine is commanded by Cmdr. A. K. Tyne.

"MISS WORLD TRADE"—Native of Canada, Miss Smith, screen actress, posed as "Miss World Trade" during the U.S. world trade week. She is to personify that nation's shipping and international commerce. Miss Smith, wearing a specially designed costume with flags symbolizing peaceful trade among nations, will preside as hostess at events arranged by the Los Angeles, Calif., chamber of commerce.

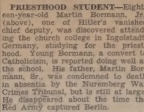

BOYS WONDERED WHAT WOULD HAPPEN, SOON FOUND OUT—Children playing with matches are blamed for the $8,500 fire which destroyed the triple barn of Herbert Wallace, near Agincourt, Ont. Two six-year-old boys are reported to have thrown lighted matches into straw to see what would happen. Firesmen from Agincourt and Beaverton, Ont., had difficulty in keeping the flames from reaching the house.

BOY, 4, TRAPPED UNDER TOMBSTONE—Trapped under a tombstone in the old church cemetery at the village of Tharrington, near Beaverton, Ont., for more than six hours, four-year-old Clifford Wilson declared "the old thing" fell on him. He was rescued by his mother. The tombstone was erected in 1865 and was loose on its base. As the lid started to crack it, it toppled. Clifford was pinned from just below the shoulders. When his mother lifted the 100-pound stone and dragged him out he had difficulty walking. Above Clifford shows his mother how he was trapped.

BLONSON TIME—Despite its recent dull and rainy weather, Ontario had its share of blizzards. Henry Ann Featherstone, Toronto, who has umbrella along, is photographed beside magnolia tree.

FRIENDSHIP STUDENT—Eighteen-year-old Martin Hermann, Jr., student, son of Hamburg, Germany, was discovered attending the church service in England, Germany, studying for the priesthood. Young Hermann, a convert to Catholicism, is reported doing well at the school. His father, Martin Hermann, Sr., was condemned to death in Germany by the Nuremberg War Crimes Tribunal, but is still at large. He disappeared about the time the Red Army captured Berlin.

ATTEMPTS RESCUE—Survivor of a sinking fatally in Lake Simcoe, Joseph Cryer, Jr., Toronto, a former swimming instructor, three times brought Joseph Cryer, Jr., to the surface but was unable to reach him a fourth time in the choppy water and so drowned. The boat capsized.

HANDICAPPED MOTHER BEARS NORMAL CHILD—Mrs. Betty Lampe Haglund, gains with pride and thankfulness at her newborn baby daughter, Valerie, in a Springfield, Ill., hospital. Valerie is a normal baby in every respect although her mother was born without feet, and overcame that handicap to live a normal life and become a happily married housewife. Mrs. Haglund hobbled through high school and college and was working to help her widowed mother when her case was called to the attention of the nation by newspaper stories. Contributions from sympathetic readers later enabled her to be fitted with artificial feet so that she could walk normally and even dance. She married William Haglund of Chicago shortly afterwards.

ARREST MAN WHO SET FIRE TO 18 HOMES—Charged with arson, D'Amie Monard, who, police say, has confessed to setting fire to 18 Jewish-owned homes in Val Morin, Quebec, is shown with police. He was carrying 675 matches when caught.

GIVEN UP THRONE—Queen Wilhelmina, (above), is giving up the throne of the Netherlands in favor of her daughter, Princess Juliana. The queen said it was only at the "urgent request" of her daughter Princess Juliana, that she had postponed transferring the throne to her until after Aug. 31—the queen's 68th birthday—and the celebration of her 50 years on the throne.

WONDERING WHAT TO DO WITH BEAR CUBS THEY CAPTURED—The three bears in this picture have no claim to story-book fame. The trio of cubs were captured by Don and his men at Fort Arthur, Ont. Now that the men have the cubs, they wonder what they will do with them.

HOUSE WARMING—General Dwight D. Eisenhower stands by his wife as they warm to the crowd that welcomed them to their new home at Columbia University, New York. The former U.S. army chief of staff said he would spend some time writing his memoirs before taking over the duties of presidency of the university.
